M'ARTHUR GETS TUMULTUOUS OVATION

Time Running Out For 75

Blind Hunt for Sub Spurred By Weak Undersea Signals

PORTSMOUTH, ENG., April 18—(AP)—Faint underwater signals spurred a blind search today for the British submarine Affray stuck on the bottom of the English Channel. Time was swiftly running out for any of the 75 officers and men aboard who might still be alive.

The submarine, trapped in the initial dive of a training cruise, had been under 198 feet of water for 40 hours when the Royal Navy announced at mid-afternoon that it had been unable to make any physical contact with the craft. Its normal oxygen supply would last the men on board 40 hours.

A naval expert said reserve supplies might let the 75 aboard live another eight hours but "that means by 2100 hours (3 p.m., E.S.T.) the situation inside the vessel would be extremely dangerous."

The last faint signals from the submarine were heard at 8.30 a.m. (2:30 a.m., E.S.T.)

Mysterious Silence

Then came hours of ominous silence. There was an atmosphere of mystery about it.

Why, the rescue crews asked, could not the trapped men begin coming to the surface through escape hatches, using emergency breathing gear? Why had the submarine failed to release its emergency marked buoy to guide rescue craft? Why, if there had been disaster, had the rescue fleet failed to find any debris or even an oil slick?

Late today a Royal Air Force search plane said it spotted a yellow object floating 29 miles east of Portland Light. This is 60 miles from the area where the searchers are waiting for a sign of life from the trapped men. But it is along the route the submarine was supposed to follow on its practice war patrol maneuver which began Monday night, and surface vessels were being directed to the spot on the chance the object might be a marker buoy from the Affray.

Exact Location Unknown

The Admiralty said the signals, from a supersonic telegraph set, were so weak that rescue ships were unable to fix the exact position of the luckless undersea craft.

The only previous signal from the sub, heard at 12:50 a.m. today (6:50 p.m. E.S.T. Tuesday, had led the rescue fleet of 25 ships to the area 30 miles southwest of the Isle of Wight.

The rescuers signalled to the entombed crew to try an underwater escape, one by one in special equipment through the vessel's escape hatches, but by mid-morning none had bobbed to the surface.

The rescue boats fired down new depth charge signals in an attempt to reestablish contact.

The rescue fleet which had scoured a 2,000 square mile area since yesterday morning located the Affray in almost exactly the area where the sub had submerged on Monday night, at the start of what was to be an underwater training cruise.

Reports trickling back from the rescue ships said the second set

PEACE "FEELER."? U.N. teletype operator Helen Simonetti holds long sheets of a cablegram received in Lake Success, N. Y., from North Korea containing, along with violent attacks on the U. S., what may be a peace bid. U.N. delegates think the proposal, calling for a five-power (Red China, Russia, Britain, France, U. S.) conference, is just propaganda. Oddly enough, or perhaps naturally enough, the message was not in Korean—it was in Russian.

Reports of New Red Peace Bid Heard In U.N.

Arab-Asian Members Confer Over Cable From North Koreans

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 18—(AP)—Reports of a new peace bid from Communist China circulated here today as delegates studied the official text of a North Korean cable interpreted by some as a peace offer and by others as a propaganda blast.

The 12 Arab-Asian members of the U. N. scheduled a meeting at the apartment of India's Sir Benegal N. Rau today to discuss the North Korean communication and "other developments."

Members of the group hinted strongly that it would be a good guess that the "other developments" included a new message from Peiping, relayed through India's ambassador there, clarifying the Red Chinese views on a cease fire in Korea.

Rau denied, however, that he had received such a communication.

Contents Of Cable

A source with close Arab-Asian connections said the group had sent Peiping a cable saying:

1. Dismissal of Gen. MacArthur created a favorable atmosphere for peace talks.
2. The United Nations is inclined to reach a Korean settlement on the basis of a cease fire near the 38th Parallel.
3. The Arab-Asians plead for an equally compromising spirit on the part of the Peiping government.

This source said the Peiping reply would be read to the meeting today.

The North Korean cable contained about 2,500 words of bitter denunciation of alleged American atrocities, boasted of eventual Communist victory, and concluded with a paragraph demanding that the U.N. make peace in accordance with resolutions drawn up by the Communist-led world peace council which met in Berlin in February.

Proposal Of Outright War Seen Shelved

Predict Congress Will Ignore Cain's "Put Up or Shut Up"

WASHINGTON, April 18—(AP)—Senate Democratic Leader McFarland today predicted a pigeonhole fate for legislation by Senator Cain (R-Wash) asking Congress to declare war against Communist China and North Korea.

The Arizona senator also forecast shelving of an alternative resolution offered by Cain — withdrawal of United States forces from Korea.

Cain's action was another of the stormy repercussions in the wake of President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who goes before a Senate-House meeting tomorrow to outline his Far Eastern policy views in general terms.

Mr. Truman had an opportunity to speak out, if he chose at a news conference today (4:30 p.m., E.S.T.)

MacArthur, flying from Tokyo, is due to arrive here from San Francisco after midnight, about 1:30 a.m. E.S.T.) And the capital is planning a huge welcome.

Hit Proposal

As for the Cain proposals, Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Senator McMahon (D-Conn) joined McFarland in speaking out against them. Senator Malone (R-Nev), on the other hand, said he was reserving judgment.

Cain introduced the two resolutions late yesterday, saying it is time for Congress to make a choice—and time for America and her allies to "put up or shut up." He told the Senate he was expressing his own views, and that they neither had been approved nor "denied" by the Republican party.

Senator Russell (D-Ga) declared meanwhile that the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees will conduct "the widest possible" inquiry into Far Eastern policy and the clash which resulted in MacArthur's ouster. Russell is chairman of the armed services unit and is in line to head the two-committee investigation.

He told reporters the inquiry, originally booked to start today, probably will get underway early next week with MacArthur possibly the first witness.

Clubs Endorse Bond Issue

The executive boards of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs and the Marion Rotary Club yesterday voted endorsement of the $2,900,000 school bond issue which will be on the ballot of the May 8 primary election.

Other groups voting endorsement of the bond issue which is for the construction of a new senior high school and improvement of other schools were the Marion Association of University Women, the Vernon Heights Junior High School P.-T.A., the Garden Gate Unit of the Marion Garden Club, the Child Life Circle of the Child Conservation League, the Burroughs Nature Club, the Le Mercure Club and the Sesame Club.

Jury To Hear Rep. Brehm Case Today

WASHINGTON, April 18 — (AP)—A federal court jury hears a statement today about contributions allegedly received by Republican Rep. Walter E. Brehm of Ohio from a woman clerk as far back as early 1945.

Brehm, 58, is charged with receiving $1,380 in illegal campaign donations from Mrs. Clara Soliday, 75, of Logan, O., and from Mrs S. Craven of Washington in 1947 and 1948 while they worked for him.

He has pleaded innocent.

Chief Prosecutor Floyd J. Mattice told Judge Burnita S. Matthews yesterday he will tell a jury of 10 men and two women about an "arrangement" under which Mrs Soliday "kicked back more than half of her salary" in return for a job.

Mattice told the court the arrangement began in January, 1945, continued through the three years of Mrs Soliday's employment and after that while Mrs. Craven worked in Brehm's office.

The prosecutor told a reporter he plans to discuss this alleged arrangement in his opening statement, expected today, and to present evidence later.

Woman Fatally Hurt In Mt. Vernon Crash

MOUNT VERNON, O., April 18—(AP)—An automobile hit a highway guard rail early today and Clara B. Whitefield of Cleveland was injured fatally. Her legs were cut off.

The accident occurred at the junction of U. S. route 36 and state route 229.

The victim was one of five persons returning from Columbus, where they attended a hearing on a fair employment practice bill in the legislature. The driver was Suezette M. King, 38, of Cleveland.

Chinese Give Ground Along Western Front

Allies Move Nearer 600,000 Reds Massed In Chorwon Area

TOKYO, April 18 — (AP) — Communist troops grudgingly gave ground on Korea's Western front today under heavy Allied air and ground attacks.

Allied tanks punched a hole in the Red lines between Chorwon and Kumhwa. They lunged to the vicinity of Chigyong, 18 miles inside Red Korea. Tank and rifle fire killed 100 Reds in a brief skirmish.

U. S Eighth Army headquarters reported signs of a general Red withdrawal on this front. The pullback was not marked however. Allied gains were moderate.

Chorwon and Kumhwa are two bases in the big triangle where the Reds had massed an estimated 600,000 combat troops. Chorwon also was threatened by a frontal attack. Allied troops hold all the high ground south of the city.

Thrown Back

It was a different story at Hwachon, the eastern base of the buildup area. There the Reds continued their dogged defense of the Hwachon dam. One Allied force tried to push across the dam Wednesday. It was thrown back by heavy Communist fire.

Allied foot troops slugged ahead with little opposition east and north of Yanggu on the western tip of the huge Hwachon Reservoir. Some Communist mortar fire was reported.

Tanks ranged east and northwest of Yonchon on the West Central front without meeting Communist forces. The tanks destroyed 70 tons of Red ammunition southwest of Kumhwa.

Russian-made jets returned briefly Wednesday to the North Korean skies. Twenty-five MIG-15s darted across the Manchurian border and tangled with 16 American F-86 sabre jets.

One MIG was damaged in the 15 minute dogfight that swirled at 30,000 feet. All Allied planes returned to their bases.

Allied commanders said the grinding United Nations attack in Red Korea presumably has thrown the Chinese and Korean Communists completely off balance. Chinese war prisoners said the Reds' spring offensive was set for April 11. That was one week ago. The Reds still are committing their troops piecemeal in rear-guard delaying actions.

It was evident in several spots that the Reds either were pulling back to new defense positions or reeling from the powerful U N. air and artillery attacks.

San Francisco On Wildest Emotional Jag Since V-J Day

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur's dramatic homecoming was growing today into the wildest emotional jag this city has seen since the tumult of V-J day.

Tens of thousands of bay area citizens poured out of their homes to give the ousted general a second-day welcome expected to overshadow the riotous greeting he received last night on his first return to the mainland in 14 years

MacArthur captured San Francisco as surely as his troops conquered Manila and Leyte and Iwo Jima in World War Two.

And his parade through cheering thousands this morning (starting at 9:45 a. m.—12:45 p. m., EST) will be the climax to the hysterical homecoming party.

Once the official welcome home is extended, the general will turn to the grim business of hurrying to Washington to defend before Congress tomorrow the Asia policies which caused President Truman to fire him.

Already the dispute between MacArthur and President Truman has the Republicans and Democrats hurling at each other the angry and bitter accusation of "war party." And this deep rift has people throughout the country choosing up sides.

Public Leaves No Doubt

But the hundreds of thousands who greeted MacArthur last night left no doubt of their deep admiration of the hero-soldier regardless of how they felt about his Asia policies.

People began gathering at the city airport three hours before MacArthur's big shiny Constellation transport was due from Hawaii.

As dusk settled over the field there were about 10,000 spectators jammed into a wire-fence enclosure. Other thousands were unable to get in.

Excitement mounted as MacArthur's plane—the Bataan—neared the field on its 300-miles-an-hour flight from Hawaii. Then the big plane swept over the field with lights twinkling and settled on the runway as the crowd cheered.

The ship touched the runway at 8:29 p. m., (11:29 p. m., EST). It rolled up before the crowd and flood lights gleamed on its silvery sides.

The plane rolled to a halt A woman gave a high, hysterical scream that signalled the temper of the crowd.

Roaring Cheers

The cheers swelled into a roar. Mrs. Jean MacArthur stepped from the plane onto the ramp. Then came the general wearing his familiar gold-braided cap and a trenchcoat buttoned high around his neck. Behind him was their 13-year-old son, Arthur—wide-eyed and grinning.

The official greeting party included Gov. Earl Warren, Mayor Elmer Robinson and high-ranking officers of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines. They moved forward to shake hands with the MacArthurs.

Spectators, newsmen and photographers surged forward and the welcome almost got out of hand. Police shoved a way open for the honor guests.

MacArthur had requested a brief ceremony shorn of any pomp except the customary military ceremonies given a five-star general. But a wave of excitement swept the crowd and swamped the well-laid plans.

Flash bulbs popped and the general was caught in the glare of television lights. The color guard snapped to attention. Artillery pieces boomed out a 17-gun salute.

Governor Warren and Lt Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, 6th Army commander, were beside MacArthur as he emerged from the first milling crowd.

The general halted abruptly to salute the clors. He posed briefly for photographers and then walked slowly to inspect the honor guard standing stiffly at attention.

Old friends grabbed his hands and shook them. Men and women patted him on the shoulders and surged around him. There were rolling cheers from the mass of people hemmed in behind the fence. The general waved and smiled.

MacArthur walked swiftly before the guard on an inspection that almost was a mob scene. Scores followed and pressed around him—trying to keep pace while police frantically worked to clear a path.

Mrs MarArthur and young Arthur were trapped in the swirling throng. They stood helplessly, unable to move. Friends gathered around them to form a tight circle of protection.

Mrs. MarArthur clung to a huge bouquet of American Beauty roses which had been handed to her by a tiny South Korean girl. The youngster—7 year old daughter of a South Korean government official—had shyly tendered the roses while clasping a little South Korean flag.

Young Arthur watched the tumult in wide-eyed wonder. Lt. Col. Anthony Story, MacArthur's personal pilot, threw his arms around Arthur protectively to shield him from the jostling throng.

"How does it feel to be home?" someone asked the boy who was seeing the mainland for the first time.

"It feels fine," he smiled.

Mrs MacArthur was smiling. Her eyes were wet with tears.

'It's simply wonderful,' she said "It's simply wonderful. We

British Officer Favors Bombs On Manchuria

TOKYO, April 18—(AP)—The top British military officer in Japan has voiced support of General MacArthur's proposal to bomb Red Chinese bases in Manchuria.

Lt. Gen Sir H. C. H. Robinson, administrtaive commander of British commonwealth forces in Korea, last week told a confidential conference of British newsmen that MacArthur's proposal offered the best hope of forcing the Chinese Reds out of the war and preventing a costly stalemate He said the only alternative would be to send a tremendous land army—larger than anyone has contemplated—into Korea.

The Australian general is the first important British commonwealth officer to speak in favor of bombing Manchuria. The British foreign office and commonwealth governments have strongly opposed MacArthur's program for fear it would spread the war

Marion Plant Whistles Blow For MacArthur

Plant whistles and church bells were rung in Marion last night at 11 to mark the arrival of General Douglas MacArthur in San Francisco.

The local bell-ringing and whistle-blowing was part of a national demonstration of welcome for the general and was sponsored by a group of local industrialists.

Marion police received several telephone calls from local residents who knew nothing of the planned observance One Marionite rushed to police headquarters to find out if the city was being bombed.

The nationwide demonstration was first suggested by the Chattanooga Free Press and was publicized by Fulton Lewis Jr., newscaster for the Mutual Broadcasting System.

$25 Taken In Breakin; Two Boys Held

Two teen age boys are being questioned by police today in connection with a breakin at the Marion Recreation Center at 126 South Prospect street about 1 a.m. this morning. Police reported $25 was taken from a box under the counter.

Entry was gained to the bowling alley by forcing the rear door. The exit was made by breaking a glass in the front door, police said.

City police received a call from Merchant Police Officer E. H. Ballantyne who reported the breakin. He was holding a boy he had caught at the scene. Later a Marion man reported his son had not come home that evening. Police picked the boy up when he came home at 4 a.m. and both were questioned.

They were later released in the custody of the juvenile officer. The investigation of the case is continuing today, police officers said.

LaRue School Building Entered

The LaRue School was broken into between 11 p.m. last night and 8 this morning.

A quick check of the school by Superintendent Paul Wise failed to reveal anything missing.

Mr. Wise said entry was gained through a second floor window at the rear of the building. A fire escape had been climbed and a window broken in the fire exit. The door was unlocked from the inside.

The music room was broken into but all school instruments were in place. However, several instruments belonging to pupils were in the room and officials could not say whether or not any had been removed.

A group of students preparing for a junior-senior banquet left the building around 11, Mr. Wise said. The breakin was discovered this morning at 8:45 by eighth grade pupils. They reported the finding to Mr. Wise who in turn notified the Marion County sheriff.

Truman "Battening the Hatches" In Preparation for MacArthur's Talk

WASHINGTON, April 18—(UP)—President Truman is battening the hatches like a careful skipper against tomorrow's blast of criticism from Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The administration does not underestimate the general. Prudent precautions are being taken against miscalculations in replying to him

Mr. Truman already has maneuvered himself out of a couple of embarrassing spots. Chance had scheduled him to speak here before the American Society of Newspaper Editors tomorrow an hour after MacArthur would complete his address to a joint meeting of the Congress in the House chamber.

There were embarrassing complications. Mr. Truman's editor hosts wondered whether they could hold their luncheon crowd together during MacArthur's televised appearance at the capitol.

The White House pondered Mr. Truman's own problem. That was to go on the air and television screens for millions of Americans immediately after MacArthur's speech, what to say?

To answer MacArthur, Mr. Truman would have had to speak off the cuff. In the field of high policy the President is not at his best that way. But the television and radio audience might still expect him to come up with a full dress answer to the deposed general, however understanding his hosts here in Washington might have been of his predicament.

There was talk of postponing Mr. Truman's address until Friday. The problem was solved yesterday when the President's appearance before the editors was cancelled.

Chance also had fixed this week's regular presidential news conference for 4 30 p.m., tomorrow.

Urges "More Courageous Living"

Marion Secretaries Group Hears Dr. Auer of Galion

By ROSE ANN BALDWIN

"We need to have more courageous living if we ever hope to survive in this confusing world," stated Dr. Phillip Auer of Galion guest speaker at a "Boss Night" dinner of the Marion chapter of the National Secretaries Association at Hotel Harding last night.

Dr Auer began his discussion of "Courageous Living in Confusing Times" by reviewing the progressive age in which we now live. "But," he stated, "even though this is the progressive age, it is also a confusing age." He pointed out that even after World War I, we, as a nation and a community, seemed confused. "I doubt if we will ever get out of these confusions. We still are wondering what the present world confusion is all about, and where we are going," he said.

Firm Foundation

Dr. Auer stated we are not able to see or understand what we are headed for. "Unless we have our feet planted on a firm foundation, we will be overwhelmed by the confusion of times," said Dr. Auer.

He suggested the following solutions to the problems of our times:

First, we must come to a deeper appreciation of the fundamental value of life and life itself.

Second, we must make the home the most important institute of the earth, for "this," said Dr. Auer, "is where the strength of America is made." He pointed out that community influence is great, not only on an adult, but mainly on the younger generations who grow up in that community.

Thirdly, we need a deeper appreciation of the past privileges passed on to us by our ancestors, he said There is a great need to strive to preserve the American way of life, as did the soldiers during the war. "If more people would serve on public committees, then we would be able to build a truly great nation."

His final point was that we, as a nation, need to come to a deeper appreciation of spiritual value If we would ask for guidance each day, Dr. Auer feels we would be able to live more courageously than we do.

He concluded his talk with "I hope that when my grandchildren, and great grandchildren, read their history books, they will be able to say, 'They were worthy of their lineage, and were able to live courageously in their confusing times.'"

Who's Who Member

Dr. Auer is pastor of the Peace Lutheran Church of Galion, and active in community affairs. His name appears in the most recent issues of "Who's Who in America." He has addressed many civic clubs, and given many high school commencement addresses.

Guests at the dinner last night were the employers of the members, and included Ben T. Wiant, Tom S. Cathers, Marvin L. Wilson, E. D. Halsey, B W. Wiant, Jon Avrigean, H. M. Hinderleider, Frank Wiedemann, Jack F. Weis, Martin R. Tuttle, Harold R. Fetter, Frank Foster, William H. Foster, Paul Midlam, Grover Thrush, A. F Busick Jr, Mrs Mary K. Birch, B. P. Cooper, Harold R. Seiter and W Hoover Brown.

Other guests were Mrs. Rose Ann Baldwin and Virginia Grover.

Miss Martha Fabian, vice president of the organization, presided as toast mistress at the dinner, and introduced the guest speaker. For roll call, each member responded with an introduction of her guest. Decorations of the dining tables were of yellow and red. Yellow iris and jonquils centerpieces, flanked with lighted red tapers were placed on the center of each table. During the dinner, music was furnished by Miss Grover.

have looked forward to this."

The thin wail of a baby sounded over the cheering. Women waved handkerchiefs and a group of youths waved flags bearing the greeting "Hi, Mac!"

"MacArthur for President!" signs appeared over the bobbing heads.

Slowly MacArthur made his way through the crowds to a battery of microphones He said with deep emotion: "I can't tell you how good it is to be home . . . during these long, long, dreary years Mrs. MacArthur and I have talked and thought about it . . . This is marvelous hospitality and a reception that we will not forget."

The MacArthurs then climbed into a closed car to lead a procession of thousands of automobiles into the city 15 miles away.

Along the route, MacArthur left the closed car and climbed into a 1931 model open Lincoln phaeton which has carried distinguished visitors into the city for 20 years.

Barely creeping, the procession moved into San Francisco, through hundreds of thousands of people lining the streets to wave and cheer. The general obviously was enjoying the spontaneous outburst from his countrymen. He waved and smiled to the crowds—making no effort to speed up the column. In fact, he halted at nearly every intersection to acknowledge the greetings. The normal 30-minute drive required 100 minutes.

Tumult Repeated

But there was still another tumultuous scene waiting at the St Frances Hotel in downtown San Francisco where the MacArthur party was to spend the night.

Here another 10,000 persons were packed into block-square Union Square in front of the hotel. The crowd fanned for blocks into nearby streets. The hotel lobby was jammed and people were perched atop furniture.

Traffic was hopelessly snarled and police were unable even to make way for the famed cable cars which carry riders up and down the hilly streets.

Tempers flared and several brawls broke out in the crowd. It seemed police would not be able to handle the throng until they enlisted the help of Marines, sailors and soldiers to form a hand-linked cordon.

With difficulty, police cleared a path for MacArthur to walk the few feet from his car to the hotel door while the crowd gave him a noisy greeting almost as wild as the welcome at the airport

The crowd was so heavy that Mrs. MacArthur's car was not able to reach the hotel entrance until nine minutes after that of her husband.

The MacArthurs were showered with scraps torn from telephone books, with feathers pulled from torn pillow cases and corsages which women unpinned from their dresses.

Whisked Through Lobby

The general was hurried through the lobby so rapidly many people failed even to get a glimpse of him before he entered an elevator to be taken to his suite on the sixth floor.

As MacArthur stepped from the elevator someone asked him a question.

"I'm not saying anything," MacArthur said, "until I get to Washington. What I have to say is for their ears."

"I'll bet you tell them plenty!"

The general retorted with a laugh: "You'll see."

Thousands Left Homeless By Midwest Floods

By The Associated Press

Thousands were homeless and other thousands were threatened with evacuation today by flood waters from the mighty Mississippi which is on a rampage in the Midwest.

The Red Cross estimated that 23,000 persons have been affected by spring floods in five Midwest states.

Communities along the Mississippi from St. Paul to Quincy, Ill., braced for what may be the most disastrous floods in years.

The river, which hit a record 17.4 foot level at Winona, Minn., last night, was expected to crest slightly above that mark today in the worst flood in the upper valley in 70 years.

More than 300 families were evacuated in Winona, an industrial city of 25,000. Barriers, some as high as 10 feet and one of them 1,300 feet long, were erected north and south of the city.

South of Winona at La Crosse, Wis., water covered at least 30 city blocks and 300 families were forced to flee their homes Downstream at Prairie Du Chien, Wis., about one-third of the city of 5,000 population was covered by four to five feet of water. About 150 families have been evacuated from the flooded homes.

The Red Cross and civil defense agencies are busy caring for the homeless in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Wisconsin and northern Iowa.

TWO DRIVERS ARRESTED

State highway patrolmen made two arrests for excessive speed yesterday. Peter Rastello, 54, of Detroit, Mich., was arrested at 5:30 p.m. on Route 23. He was fined $20 and costs by Justice of the Peace Schoenberger of Upper Sandusky. Donald Donahoo, 26, of near Waldo, is scheduled to appear before Mayor Klingel of Waldo at 8 p.m. today to answer a speeding charge.

Police Report 4 Accidents

A car driven by Lester Huffman, 16, of 128 Plymouth street, backing from an alley on Uncapher avenue, struck a parked car owned by Robert Krider of 433 Uncapher avenue at 8:31 p.m. yesterday.

Minor damage was resulted when cars driven by John William Floyd, 17, of 517 Ballentine avenue and James M. Bonsel, 23, of near LaRue collided on North Main street at George street at 7:07 p.m. yesterday.

A taxi driven by Raymond George Carnell, 41, of 299 West Fairground street and a car driven by Herman Spear, 51, of 237 Hane avenue collided at East Church and South State streets at 3 p.m. yesterday. Police reported minor damage.

Slight damage was reported when cars driven by Kenneth O. Smith, 21, of 223 North Greenwood street and Clifford M. Clark, 31, of 336 Waterloo street collided on Leader street at 6:46 a.m. today, police said.

Peron Signs Law Seizing La Prensa

BUENOS AIRES, April 18—(AP)—President Juan D. Peron signed today a law ordering the government to take over the independent newspaper La Prensa.

The president's action ends the independent career of the 82-year-old opposition paper which had been a consistent critic of his regime.

McMillen To Begin New Storage Plant

McMillen Feed Mills, local division of Central Soya Co, Inc. of Fort Wayne, Ind, today began excavation for the construction of new storage capacity at its plant at 751 East Farming street.

Ten silos holding approximately 1,000,000 bushels will be built on the north side of Farming street across from the present plant.

Recent ordinances vacating the portion of Farming street between Grand and Lincoln avenues and zoning the 15 lots on the north side of this street for industrial type construction have made it possible for the company to make plans to expand.

The plant now has a 1,360,000 bushel storage capacity. Addition of the new storage has been necessitated by continual increases in capacity of the soybean solvent extraction plant, which started operations in the fall of 1949, Robert W. Fay, local plant manager said today in announcing the start of the expansion program.

It is planned that the new storage will include facilities for unloading both truckloads and railroad carloads of beans. The truck unloading facilities will be vastly improved over the old setup and the company will be in a position to render a greatly improved service to the bean growers of this area, Mr. Fay said. No estimate of the cost of the expansion program is yet available, he said.

Mr. Fay added that as a result of the expansion in the facilities of the Marion plant it is now one of the major units of the Central Soya Co. and it was for this reason that the Ohio company has recently been merged into the parent company. The local plant is now being operated as McMillen Feed Mills, Division of Central Soya Co., Inc.

PASTOR EX-FBI MAN. For 16 years an FBI agent, Rev. Oliver D. Collier is greeted by children of his congregation after preaching his first sermon as new pastor of the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle in Jamaica, N. Y. # Proposal the scope is concerned," Russell said.

The foreign relations committee teamed up with the armed services group for the inquiry as Russell blocked Senate action on a Republican proposal to create a 24-member Senate-House committee to conduct the investigation.

The Republicans wanted 12 from their party and 12 Democrats named to a joint committee. The Democrats have a majority on the two regular Senate committees which will handle the job.

MacArthur's dismissal touched off these other developments:

1. Senator Kerr (D-Okla.) blasted the five-star general anew in a Senate speech, and declared Senator Taft of Ohio and certain other Senate Republicans "either seek or carelessly risk" to widen the Korean conflict into an all-out war with Red China. Taft and several of his G.O.P. colleagues again ripped into Kerr and challenged his contentions.

Study Terms Of City Water Franchise

Four members of city council, the mayor and the safety-service director met in a caucus meeting last night at the mayor's office to study and review terms of the city's current franchise with the Marion Water Co.

This franchise expires May 4.

The group also studied minor changes in the wording of the franchise suggested by the water company. Main aim of these changes is the elimination of what the company terms "dead wood"-terms of the franchise which have been fulfilled by the water company many years ago and which are no longer effective.

This is the second such caucus meeting of the council's utilities committee with the mayor and the safety-service director and other council members sitting as a committee-of-the-whole. Another will probably be scheduled before the franchise expiration date, the mayor said.

Attending last night's meeting were Utilities Committee Chairman Louis B. Conkle, 4th Ward; Councilman Clarence Sanden, 6th Ward, a utilities committee; Councilman James C. Jenkins, 2nd Ward; Councilman Herman Rinehart, 3rd Ward and Councilman-at-Large George Stafford; Mayor Harold F. Robinson and Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest.

N.Y.C. To Put Gates, Flashers Into Operation

The New York Central Railroad today announced it will place in operation five sets of gates and flashers at downtown crossings tomorrow at 7 a m.

Automatic signals at Oak, North Prospect, North Main, North State and North Greenwood streets will begin operations. Crossing watchmen will be relieved at that time, the N.Y.C. announced.

Operation of the new signals completes the switch from watchmen to gates for the New York Central in Marion. Flashers and gates were placed in operation at the West Center street crossing last July 5.

Flashers, without gates, have been operating at the Jefferson street, Grand avenue, Lincoln avenue and Barnhart street crossings for about five years.

Quick Senate OK On New RFC Boss Seen

WASHINGTON, April 18—(AP)—Administration leaders predicted today swift Senate approval of W. Stuart Symington for a new job—boss and trouble shooter at the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC).

There was no sign of serious opposition to his appointment.

President Truman announced yesterday selection of Symington to head the huge government lending agency.

Symington, a former secretary of the Air Force, now is chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

ARMY DRAFT CALL CUT

WASHINGTON, April 18—(AP)—The Army today cut its May draft call from 60,000 to 40,000 men. The action follows the halving of the April call which was cut from 80,000 to 40,000. Both cuts were based on the increase of volunteer enlistments, the Army said.

Would "Jeopardize World Peace"

Gen. Bradley Backs Truman's Policy In Firing MacArthur

CHICAGO, April 17—(AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, five-star peer of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, yesterday declared Asia military policies advocated by the deposed commander would "jeopardize world peace."

Bradley was the first of the homecoming general's five-star brothers in rank to speak out publicly against the theory of carrying the war to China since President Truman dismissed MacArthur last week. Bradley did not mention MacArthur's name.

Last year's quick United Nations action in Korea, Bradley declared, may have stayed the Kremlin's hand as it was about to precipitate World War Three.

Bradley roundly backed the President's stand against MacArthur's ideas and defended the administration's policy of limiting the war in Korea. As chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Bradley has a large part in policy making.

Bradley's Analysis

In a speech prepared for delivery to the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, Bradley also declared.

1. The Korean war, under present conditions, may be headed toward a stalemate, but it can be brought to an honorable conclusion.

2. The United States will not wage a preventive war.

3 The one price the U. S. will not pay for peace is appeasement.

4. The use the Reds have made of air bases in Manchuria to date has not warranted U. N. bombing of them.

5. Action against aggression in Korea upset Communist plans in Asia, at least temporarily preventing Red moves in Indo-China and perhaps saving Thailand and Formosa.

6. Any attempt to settle the world crisis by an ultimatum — perhaps accompanied by a threat to bomb Russia—is militarily impracticable and might backlash

In places, Bradley's viewpoint on the situation was the same as MacArthur's. He disagreed on what to do about it.

Bradley made it plain that "I have no intention of entering the foreign policy field or even urging a particular policy in the conduct of foreign affairs. Conduct of foreign affairs is a civilian responsibility . . ."

But, he added, "a soldier can often see strategic perils the layman might overlook. It is fundamental that our foreign policy must be based upon our military capabilities to back it up."

Bradley agreed with MacArthur's recently expressed view that the war in Korea may be headed for a stalemate. The Joint Chiefs chairman declared:

TOP ECHELON. Lieut. Gen. Lauris Norstad (above), 44, of Minneapolis, is commander-in-chief of the strategically-important United States Air Forces in Europe

No End In Sight

"There is no early end in sight to the Korean war under present conditions. As far as we can see now there is nothing transitory, nothing temperary about the Communists' determination to drive us out of Korea, and, if possible, to destroy our forces completely.'

MacArthur recommended, in a series of statements and a letter to Rep Joseph Martin (Mass), House Republican leader, that the solution is to use Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa to carry the war to the mainland and to bomb Manchurian bases. Bradley said:

"Any recommended course of action which would enlarge the present war is contrary to our best interests, and by jeopardizing world peace, ultimately would threaten our security.

"We will not provoke war against anyone . . . we will not wage a so-called preventive war even against an arch-enemy, for this certainly destroys peace.

"Our military action in Korea is closely related to our North Atlantic treaty efforts in Europe . . . in collective action we multiply our defensive strength. x x x

"Because we are intent on preventing World War Three, we are not making moves that might lead to enlargement of the present conflict . . . our government is cautious in every decision that might prolong this conflict. It has been difficult for the men in the field to refrain from attacking the air bases in Manchuria. However, Communist air intervention has not been a factor in the ground (or air) action to date . . .

Victory Already Won

"As we carry out these actions, even though it could possibly result for a time in a military stalemate, we have already achieved an international victory.

"As long as we are able to confine the battles to Korea and continue to destroy the Communist aggressors, we are making progress toward our international objective of preventing World War Three.

"Enlarging the battle to a full-scale war is never an economical or morally acceptable solution to a limited conflict. If at all possible, Korea should be settled on the present battleground.

"If we here at home can only measure up to the achievements of patience and courage (of the men in Korea) there is every reason to believe that the war in Korea can ultimately be concluded on honorable terms. . ."

Bradley continued:

"Success in Korea may prevent a new incident, and may prevent World War Three. Failure in Korea will invite another aggression.

U. S. Objectives

United States objectives in Korea, he said, are:

1. "To protect and maintain our form of government and our way of life against any challenge. On this point we recognize no limitation of expenditures or of exertion."

2. "To seek peace by every means at our command . . . but there is one price we will not pay —appeasement."

3. "To assure peace, not only for ourselves, but for all others For this reason we support the United Nations."

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

Dicky's reply to my father's query was prompt, and I realized that while I had been closeted with Bill and Hank, he had been keeping in close touch with Mr. "X," the brilliant F.B.I. operative, who has given such signal aid to "the Chief," in some of his most difficult problems.

"Not yet," my husband told his father-in-law, "but he expects to get one within the next two hours. When I found him, the morning train had gone."

"Anything the matter with his car?" my father asked, and Dicky quickly erased from his face the look of surprise which had leaped there at the question. But he was not quite quick enough. My father had seen the look, and answered it.

"I know, I know," he said a bit testily. "I said I wanted 'X' to go in by train. That was because I planned to have him remain in New York and do some spade work for me until I should reach there. There was no sense in wasting his strength in driving, or in putting unnecessary wear and tear upon his car But now I want him to go up to Miss Gray's college, confer with the authorities, and arrange a meeting for me with Bill's fiancee, Mildred Gray.

"I would go myself, for the preliminary talks with the college president," he went on. "but I know that my movements are watched, and I want no advance notice of what I am doing. And I shall arrange to have my trip up there so guarded that no one outside my party will know that I have been there. 'X' is perfect for the spade work. But I shall have to see him again. I already have talked to him about the work I wished him to do for me in New York. Now I shall have to brief him all over again. How soon can you get him here, son?"

"Twenty minutes," Dicky said promptly, "with one or two extra for telephoning"

"Good!" my father said. "Keep the conversation brief."

"I'll do that," Dicky said. "Old 'X' and I talk in a sort of scrambled code of our own anyway"

He was on his feet as he spoke, and moved quickly toward the door. As he went through it, my father turned to me, and held out the paper on which Bill had jotted down his carefully considered data about his fiancee.

"How soon can you make me four typewritten copies of this?" he asked.

"Carbons or originals?" I countered.

"Originals, definitely." he said. "I want one for myself, one for 'X', one for the college president, and one for emergency use."

He must be in a mellow mood, I told myself, or he never would have troubled to explain his request. But I was calculating even as I speculated, and my answer was reasonably prompt.

"A half hour, possibly a little longer," I told him.

"Can you bring me two of them by the time 'X' gets here?" he asked next. "Then you will have time to finish the other two by the time he starts on his journey."

"I can do that easily," I said.

"Can you use the typewriter in my bedroom"' he asked. and something in his voice told me that he had some important reason for wishing me to do the work in his suite instead of in my study.

of signals were heard "intermittently" around 8:30 a.m. (2:30 a.m. E.S.T.). Then the Affray became mysteriously silent again.

Ships Ring Area

A large circle of ships ringed the rescue area this morning. In their center two sister submarines bobbed on the gentle swell.

The outer ring of vessels included small craft carrying doctors and nurses. Also waiting in the outer circle were salvage craft and pontoons capable of lifting the sunken sub to the surface.

It was sunny and mild on the channel this morning, but easterly breezes raised a slight swell. The Admiralty said, however, that conditions for a rescue operation were good.

An Admiralty spokesman said rescue attempt had been delayed until daylight to make certain that any man coming up through the escape hatch would be spotted.

Submarines of the Affray class have three hatches with canvas escape chambers attached. Trapped men pass through the chambers and out the hatches, one at a time. They are equipped with portable breathing apparatus for the time necessary to reach the surface.

One submarine expert said the men aboard, if the vessel is not badly damaged, might be able to stay down without harm for 48 hours. The rescue fleet had found no sign—such as debris or floating oil—of any such damage.

Japan had won in war and lost by diplomacy.

And throughout this period, Russia was penetrating into Korea and establishing herself as the conqueror of Manchuria. This led to the Russo-Japanese war (1904-5) in which Japan was victorious. By the treaty of Portsmouth, Russia recognized Japan's paramount interest in Korea, transferred to Japan the southern part of the Chinese Eastern Railroad (henceforth called the South Manchurian Railway). Japan was also given the Liaotung Peninsula in Manchuria and half of Sakhalin.

ALTHOUGH JAPAN and Russia signed a number of secret treaties by which they divided Manchuria and Mongolia between them, there was no real Russian-Japanese friendship. In fact, in 1917, when the Russian revolution occurred, the Japanese sought to take areas in Siberia as far as Lake Baikal. This was countermanded by the Allies, principally the United States, who sent expeditionary forces to Siberia to hold the Trans-Siberia Railroad as trustees for Russia.

Much that is false has been written about this Siberian expedition. I was there and know the facts first hand.

It must be obvious from this review of the historical facts that a great fear of Russia has long existed in Japan and is even stronger now. The Japanese in the 1920's and 1930's justified their reversion to militarism on the grounds that they had to be prepared to withstand conquest by Russia.

The elimination of MacArthur from Japan restores this fear. Should they feel themselves abandoned they may be forced to turn to Russia to avoid being conquered, on the assumption that a satellite might have an easier time than a conquered country. It is, for them, a frightful dilemma.

TURTLE IS SABOTEUR

ORLANDO, Fla.—(UP)—One casualty was reported at a recent Florida civil air patrol meeting. Cadet Mary Bush, a first-aid worker on a "mission," waded into the water to help some air force "survivors." A turtle bit her big toe.

Just a Few Odds and Ends

The Maiden Form Brassiere Company is now sponsoring "I Cover Times Square." Come to think of it, this program, which possesses a rich, overripe odor, has always had a rather unfortunate choice of sponsor. The last one was Air Wick, which used to tell us: "Air Wick keeps your home pleasant." Then, right into our homes, Air Wick would propel "I Cover Times Square," smelling up the place to high heaven.

John Crosby

Aunt Jenny, a soap opera heroine who tells tales of great suffering to a horde of women, issues little pills of wisdom to the flock from time to time under the title "Aunt Jenny Says." Recently a press release informs me, Aunt Jenny said: "It is better to be silent and be thought a fool than to speak up and remove all doubt." A good crack, no doubt about it. Good enough, in fact, to have been uttered by Abraham Lincoln a great many years before soap opera was born.

ANOTHER EMINENT radio philosopher is Dean Cameron of WJZ who just acquired a disciple even Kant might envy. Cameron got a note in the mail, reading: "Dear Dean Cameron: You have saved my life. I have been thinking about committing suicide for a long time, but after hearing your wonderful broadcast yesterday have decided against it. I also use H-O Oats every day." The teachings of lesser prophets—Schopenhauer, Nietsche, that sort of person — may conceivably have prevented men from suicide. But I bet they never managed to persuade the guys to eat the sponsor's product, too. Cameron's achievement is a great thing for all sponsors. He has not just saved a man; he has saved a consumer, a victory for the spirit, a triumph for the economy.

A RECENT COLUMN here on popular songs brought in a small blizzard of mail which reminded me that the lurid deaths of our time have always sent the composers leaping to their escritoires to herald the event with song. Remember when John Dillinger met his end outside a movie theater in Chicago in 1934? Almost immediately there came a song called "Goodbye, Mr. Public Enemy Number One." It contained the immortal lines:

"While coming from a show,
"Again justice dealt its blow.
"And John Dillinger will never kill no mo'."

Another chorus of the same song, this one on the subject of Al Capone, went like this:

"But the law is not so dumb
"As it appears to some.
"On income tax they got the goods on him."

Perhaps the most famous commemorative song of its time was "They Wanted A Songbird in Heaven So God Took Caruso Away," one of the most profound laments since Milton's "Lycidas." Then there was that ode to contemporary homicide, a very controversial song, after the incarceration of the late Harry K. Thaw for killing Stanford White.

"Why don't they set him free
"And give him his liberty?
"Just because he's a millionaire
"People all treat him unfair."

This may be the only attempt in popular song to arouse sympathy for an imprisoned millionaire or, for that matter, for any kind of millionaire. That's all the dirges we have kicking around for the moment but there'll probably be more.

APPLIANCE MEN MEET

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Proper Pneumonia Treatment

Pneumonia is not by any means the dread disease it was before the discovery of our wonder-working antibiotic drugs. Nevertheless, it is still nothing to be trifled with. Unless promptly and properly treated, it can be as damaging as ever.

The word "pneumonia" simply means inflammation of the lung, hence the term gives no clue to the cause of the disturbance, which may be found in this or that germ, including the pneumococci and staphylococci, or certain viruses. Treatment will ultimately depend on the nature of the agent causing the attack.

Thus, in all cases, when possible, sputum should be collected for examination to determine just what germs are producing the difficulty. When this is done, the proper antibotic may be selected for treatment. If sputum cannot be collected and examined, it is suggested by some that treatment be started with aureomycin, since this antibotic is effective against several kinds of germs. It can be administered until an exact diagnosis can be made

If it is found that the pneumonia is due to the pneumococcus, it is advised that a long acting penicillin be given promptly. The dose is, as a rule, given by injection into a muscle and then it may be repeated every 12 hours until recovery takes place. In severe cases, or if the patient has complications, or where treatment has been delayed for several days, the first dose of penicillin may be given by injection into a vein and then followed bb injections into a muscle every 12 hours. If the penicillin is given by mouth, the dose must be double or triple the amounts given by injection.

Sometimes a person may react to the penicillin with a skin rash or fever. In these cases, aureomycin or one of the sulfonamide drugs may be substituted. Aureomycin may also be given by mouth or by injection into a vein. It is of special value in those cases where penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs cannot be employed.

If the illness lasts for more than a day or two, attention must be given to the diet and to making sure that the patient gets enough fluids. Coughing may be relieved by various anti-cough preparations which the physician will prescribe, and by keeping the air the patient breathes sufficiently moist. Of course, it is not necessary to comletely suppress all coughing, since the coughing helps to bring up secretions from the lungs.

The pain in the chest may be controlled by putting on a flannel binder; heat applied locally is also helpful.

For shortness of breath and cyanosis or blueness of the skin, due to lack of oxygen, the patient may be placed in an oxygen tent.

With the modern treatment of pneumonia, promptly applied, the condition can be cleared up quickly in most cases.

Questions and Answers

A Reader: Could a prolapse of the rectum be confused with hemorrhoids?

Answer: The two conditions may cause similar symptoms. However, an examination by the physician is needed to ascertain which of these two disorders is present.

through the SPORTSCOPE with A.L. McCLAIN

DEMOCRACY IN SPORTS. Latest controversy over the proposal of a commissioner for golf brings us to the question: what's wrong with democracy in sports?

Recent developments seem to indicate our democratic-minded sportsmen have come to believe the only way a given professional sport can be kept in line is to name a czar and give him the name of "commissioner."

LINEUP. In football there is Bert Bell, until recently Happy Chandler was the overlord of baseball, Dr. Eddie Egan is New York's boxing commission head, some talk has been heard of a high lama for collegiate basketball—and now golf.

Evidently the pro golfers have come to the conclusion that they, too must get into the act by hiring an overseer and recapture some of the duties now held by the P G A.

IMPOLITE WORD. Actually, what the term "commissioner" means is one individual is given full authority and until he can be removed by election he is no less than a dictator.

"Czar" is thought to be a more polite description, but the commissioner might just as well wield a hammer and sickle with their unlimited power.

FIRT STEP. Freddie Hutchinson, Detroit hurler and representative for the players in the American League, took perhaps the first step in asking for a democracy in baseball when he voiced that the players should have a say so in the naming of Chandler's replacement

Hutchinson indicated that the players, as well as owners, should be represented Thereby leaving open a suggestion that instead of one man governing the major leagues we should have a board with both players and owners being given a seat.

NO COLOR. Getting back to golf, Chandler was even mentioned as a possible golf commissioner but this suggestion drew snorts from such pros as Jimmy Demaret, and Clayton Heafner.

Now Bantam Ben Hogan has been suggested for the "tall man in the saddle" role.

Personally we can't see Hogan as anything but a golfer after following him numerous times in Toledo's Inverness Tournament. Ben's color stems from his ability to drive his tee shots a mile, but on the links Hogan reveals as much personality as an old golf bag

Since it is presumed a golf commissioner would be required to meet people as well as handle such protests as "too many clubs" for one golfer, Hogan hardly fills the bill

But then, possibly golf doesn't need a commissioner at all What it needs is more men like Demaret and Lloyd Mangrum, who consistently turn in fine rounds, find plenty to laugh about, and aren't cry babies when an opponent accidentally touches his ball or places an extra club in his bag

Golf doesn't need a bigwig to rule on such minor grievances.

Lemon Gives Up Only 2 Bengal Hits

DETROIT, April 18—(AP)—Baseball fans still were singing praises today for Bob Lemon's brilliant two-hit pitching victory for Cleveland's Indians in their opener against Detroit

In a 37-degree temperature that had the fans huddled under blankets, Lemon fashioned a 2-1 triumph yesterday in one of the finest performances of his career.

Lemon himself said he felt he had "better stuff" than when he hurled his no-hitter in Cleveland June 30, 1948. "I really had a fast ball," the happy player told reporters.

"Great"

His delighted manager, Al Lopez, kept walking around and repeating: "He was great."

Lopez said that in all of his days of baseball, he had never seen a player who more deserved to win

And Jim Hegan, the Tribe's catcher who has been behind the bat during most of Lemon's career with the Indians, had this comment:

"He threw the best sinker I've ever seen. It must have dropped a foot every time. I had trouble holding on to it. He only threw one slider and about five curves It was fast ball after fast ball."

Except for a mistake by Rightfielder Bob Kennedy, Lemon might have had a one-hitter. Gerry Priddy, who made both of the Tigers' hits, sliced a high fly down the right field line in the third inning and Kennedy started back

Then he realized his mistake and started forward, but it was too late and the ball fell for a double. Priddy later scored on a squeeze play.

Lemon, the American League's leading pitcher last season, retired the Tigers in order seven times and was in trouble in only one inning—the fifth. He walked one man then and Priddy got his other hit

The Indians picked up their first run in the opening frame when Hal Newhouser gave up four of his eight hits They got their other in the ninth. Shortstop Johnny Lipon bobbled an easy grounder then to allow Larry Doby to race across the plate from third for the winning tally.

Early Wynn was picked to hurl for Cleveland today in the second game of the series. Dizzy Trout was to oppose him.

SCORES RUN FOR INDIANS. Roberto Avila, Cleveland Indians' second baseman, scores on a single to right field by Luke Easter, in the first inning of the American League opener against the Tigers at Detroit. A chilled crowd of 43,470 fans saw Bob Lemon pitch a two-hitter, giving the Indians a 2-1 win.

First Time in 51 Years

Connie Mack's Famous Scorecard Now Retired

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA, April 18—(AP)—The most famous scorecard in baseball has been retired along with its owner.

Of course you've guessed we mean none other than Connie Mack without his storied scorecard.

The 88-year-old Mack, wrapped in a heavy overcoat and thick muffler, sat in 40-degree chill last night watching his beloved Philadelphia Athletics lose their 1951 opener to the Washington Senators, 6-1.

It was the first time in 51 years Connie himself was not managing the A's The man whose name is synonymous with baseball huddled in a box three rows back of the team's dugout. On the field, one of Connie's prize proteges, Jimmy Dykes, did the masterminding

You might think that deep down Connie would take it a bit hard, that being a mere fan could not hold a candle to being skipper. But he's honestly happy about it. He's a man with a big load off his shoulders, a man who can relax.

Before the game started, Mack was squired onto the field to receive a bronze bust of himself presented by the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin Hat in hand, the cold wind blowing through his wisping hair, he posed for picture after picture.

Then he went back to his box And here it was full proof he had at last given up scoring the game.

Gone for good is the scorecard that waved into play such baseball greats as Eddie Collins, Al Simmons, Ty Cobb, Bing Miller, Jimmy Foxx, Jack Barry and Frank (Home Run) Baker.

In truth Connie had to borrow a card from a neighbor so that he would have one to wave for the camera shots.

Despite the A's defeat, Connie felt fine.

So would any man who took home a plaque, signed by one million baseball fans the country over, inscribed: "You will live in our hearts forever."

Edison Junior High Athletes Honored at Annual Banquet

Edison Junior High School athletes were honored by the annual banquet held last night at the school Pete Howison and Kenny Somerlot, Harding High School coaches were the principal speakers

Certificates were awarded 16 players in football and eight in basketball

Both Howison and Somerlot told the group they were eagerly awaiting their future arrival at Harding and urged the group of players to "come out early for the team, don't wait."

Other speakers included L. L. Dickey, superintendent of Marion schools; J. E. Frew, principal of Edison; George Whitehead, coach; Mrs. Whitehead, Mrs. Thomas Sutherland, Edison teacher.

Howard Zeigler acted as toastmaster and Rev. D H Hochstettler of First Evangelical United Brethren Church gave the invocation.

The dinner was served by the P-T A. mothers of Edison.

Small Turnouts See A.A. Openers

By The Associated Press

Fine early season pitching and thunderous hitting combined to give the American Association a thrilling 1951 start Tuesday.

The only disappointing feature of inaugural day was the attendance. The Minneapolis at Columbus game was washed out. Only 16,658 fans saw the other three contests. The weather was to blame.

Veteran Cliff Melton twirled a brilliant four-hitter to lead Kansas City to a 3-0 win over Louisville before 6,076.

Lloyd Gearheart, Frank Kalin and Nanny Fernandez blasted homers for Indianapolis to guide the Tribe over Milwaukee 7-4 Only 6,713 fans showed up—smallest Indianapolis opening day turnout in 10 years.

In an afternoon game at Toledo before 3,851, the Mud Hens downed St Paul 6-5 on a three-run homer by pinch hitter Don Lund. Lund connected with two out in the last of the eighth.

PROVIDENCE—(AP)—The Providence Reds of the American Hockey League are thinking of throwing out their penalty box. They recently played three consecutive games without incurring an infraction of the rules The games were against Buffalo, Hershey and Springfield. In the Springfield encounter, neither the Reds nor their adversaries suffered a penalty.

Bosox Famed Hitters Duds As Raschi Breezes Through

By The Associated Press

Is this going to be another bridesmaid year for Boston's perennial left-at-the-altar Red Sox?

Vic Raschi's 5-0 handcuffing of the Sox sluggers for the New York Yankees yesterday may have been just one of those things. On the other hand, it might have been a sign of things to come. It smacks too much of "the same old Red Sox" of the past four years.

Watching the Sox being throttled with six little singles made it almost impossible to visualize them as the same pulverizing team that ran off 11 straight Grapefruit League victories

Total Loss

The season's opener proved a total loss so far as Boston was concerned Not only were the Red Sox horse-collared, but the city's National League representatives, the Braves, were goose-egged as Larry Jansen of the Giants shut them out, 4-0, with five little singles

Philadelphia's defending champion Phils downed Brooklyn's Dodgers, 5-2, at Ebbets Field. Robin Roberts, whose final-day triumph over the Brooks gave the Phils their first flag in 35 years last season, again thwarted the Dodgers

Bob Lemon, king of the 1950 pitchers, threw a brilliant two-hitter at the Tigers to pitch the Cleveland Indians to a 2-1 triumph in Detroit

Outfielder Al Zarilla blasted St. Louis Brown pitching for a home run, double and single to lead the White Sox to a 17-3 romp before 5,660 at St. Louis.

Murry Dickson pitched and batted the Pirates to a 5-4 victory over the St Louis Cardinals in Pittsburgh. The little righthander walloped his first major league home run and contributed a single in another scoring rally.

Cubs Merry

The Chicago Cubs made merry at the expense of Ken Raffensberger, whipping the Cincinnati Reds, 8-3 Andy Patko, veteran outfielder, chipped in with a homer, triple and single Cold weather held the inaugural crowds to a disappointing 171,678 fans at the eight parks. Last year the eight openers drew 252,700 fans.

The biggest crowd of the day—44,860 Yankee Stadium fans—saw Jackie Jensen steal the show from Mickey Mantle, the publicized New York rookie flash. Jensen smashed a two-run homer and doubled in the sixth inning. Mantle singled in four times at bat.

The Washington Senators defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-1, behind Con Marrero in the first night opener in American League history.

O-I Only Five-Team League To Go in Minors This Year

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O. April 18—(AP)—Now that the majors have had their "deep freeze" openers, let's take a look at the most unusual of the minor baseball leagues.

It's the Class D Ohio-Indiana circuit, the only five-club league in existence. Organized in wartime eight years ago and shorn of three of its eight members of 1950 by the present emergency, the courageous loop launches its campaign Sunday.

Despite the fact one team will be idle each series, President Frank M. Colley—only chief the league has ever had—has lined up a regular 140-game schedule.

Into Ashcan

The Shaughnessy playoff system has been tossed into the ashcan, but a split schedule provides for the two victors to meet in a post-season seven-game series. Teams which are idle while the four others are playing will use the open dates for exhibitions with touring professional and semi-pro clubs. Second half of the season opens June 29, and closes Sept. 9.

The All-Star game is booked Tuesday, July 17, with the champion of the first half of the season meeting the stars of the four other teams in the city which tops the loop in attendance after games of July 7.

Prexy Colley said "this is the best five-club league in baseball. In fact, it's the only one."

Portsmouth and Zanesville, O., with Muncie, Ind., withdrew from the circuit after last year's campaign. The Cincinnati Reds operated Muncie, the Philadelphia Athletics ran the Portsmouth club, and the Cleveland Indians were the Zanesville owners.

Here's the surviving setup:

Marion Red Sox: President Robert E. White; working agreement with Boston Americans; Manager, Elmer Yoter, who succeeded George Susce in 1950 mid-season and won pennant and playoffs.

Lima Phillies, President J. R. Laibe; working agreement with Philadelphia Nationals. Manager, Bernard (Barney) Lutz, last year at Bradford, N. Y., in Pony Loop. He's a playing manager.

Newark Yankees: President Harry W. Arnold; working agreement with New York Americans; manager, Malcolm Mick, a playing skipper, at helm for first time.

Richmond Tigers: President Clarence W. Jessup; owned outright by Detroit Tigers, manager, Ralph Dilulo, holdover from 1950.

Springfield Giants: President Howard Garst, working agreement with New York Nationals, Playing Manager, Andy Gilbert, holdover from 1950.

Staff Slashed

The umpire staff has been slashed from 10 to five regulars, with one "fill in" arbiter. On the staff are Edward Wilson of Indianapolis, Tom Kennedy of Pontiac, Mich.; Ted Groves of Lansing, Mich.; Joe Reinoldi and George Diegel, both of Baltimore, Md., the extra, to work opening days, weekends and holidays, is Jim McClintock of Columbus.

Sunday's opening assignment: Richmond at Lima — Wilson, Reinoldi and Diegel. Newark at Springfield — Kennedy, Groves and McClintock.

ATTA BOY. Phil Rizzuto congratulates fellow Yankee Jackie Jensen as Jensen scores the first home run of the opening game against the Boston Red Sox, at New York's Yankee Stadium. The world champion Yankees won 5-0. Against Vic Raschi's pitching Red Sox got two men to second base, none to third. Umpire is Bill McGowan.

Bratton On TV Card

DETROIT, April 18—(AP)—Johnny Bratton of Chicago will make his debut tonight as the N.B.A. welterweight champion but he won't be risking his crown.

In a 10-round, over-the-weight match Bratton meets Don Williams of Worcester, Mass., at Olympia as a television attraction in the International Boxing Club's "video series."

The bout will be telecast over a national network beginning at 10 p. m. (EST).

The 23-year-old Bratton is a heavy favorite. He said, however, he was taking no chances.

"I'm taking these fights one at a time and right now I'm concentrating on Williams," the Chicagoan said.

Bratton became N.B.A. welterweight titlist by beating Charley Fusari at Chicago last month.

Bratton will get 27½ percent of tonight's net gate plus $1,000 for television rights. Williams will get 22½ percent plus an equal TV share.

Hoover Heads For A.B.C. Play

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 18—(AP)—One of the nation's youngest bowling stars, 21-year-old Dick Hoover, takes the lanes in the American Bowling Congress tonight with the G. I. Machine Company team of Akron, O.

Hoover, who scored an 847 series when he was 16 years old, was the first bowler ever to win the Chicago All-Star title in his first attempt. He expected to draw one of the largest crowds of the A B C tournament now in its second week in the St. Paul auditorium.

Hoover will be the third nationally famous kegler to roll in the tournament. Corrie Schwoegler of Madison, Wis. and Andy Varipapa of New York have competed, but neither came near crashing the leaders.

RBI CHAMPS TIE AGAIN

NEW YORK—(AP)—The American League's 1950 battle for the runs - batted - in championship wound up for the second straight season with two players from the same club sharing the laurels. The co-winners were Vern Stephens and Walt Dropo of the Red Sox. Each drove in 144 runs. In 1949 Stephens and teammate Ted Williams tied with 159 rbi's each.

Lausche Declines Bid To Throw Out First Ball

CLEVELAND, April 18—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche isn't going to throw out the first ball when Cleveland's Indians have their home opener Friday. He says he doesn't want to "cut [illegible] down" Mayor Thomas A. Burke or City Director Lee C. Howley.

In a [illegible] vein, the governor replied to an invitation from Ellis Ryan, president of the Tribe, to attend the game.

Lausche, who once played baseball professionally, said he would leave the throwing and catching of the first ball to Burke and Howley.

Ryan had suggested that the governor should [illegible] of the "major league opening" here as well as the "opening of the minor league in Cincinnati."

To this Lausche replied:

"I chuckled at the pride you exhibit concerning the comparative level of play to be witnessed in Cincinnati and Cleveland. If you don't mind, I would rather not express any opinion upon what you wrote."

Truman

Press Secretary Joseph Short, fresh himself from the ranks of Washington reporters, moved quickly to protect his chief. The new conference was advanced to today (4 30 p.m., E.S.T.) when even the most hostile questioner can not demand an answer to what the general will not say until tomorrow.

Insulated

With the President thus insulated against being compelled or goaded to pop off incautiously in response to MacArthur, the burden of answering for the administration probably will be passed on by the White House altogether.

That assignment is likely to go to one or two other noted soldiers, Gen. George C. Marshall, presently secretary of national defense, or Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chief of the joint chiefs of staff.

Both have great military prestige, although Marshall is becoming an increasingly controversial figure. How difficult it may be to reply to MacArthur's challenge of administration policies remains to be seen. The build-up for his appearance is terrific. Public expectations are in proportion.

A veteran viewer of the American scene summed it up today: "He'll either make history—big history—or he'll bust his pick."

ORLANDO, Fla. — (UP) — The Orange County commission officials voted to sell the county mule and buy a gasoline plow The mule cost the county more than $500 last year, Said the officials: 'That ain't hay."

The "Stopper" Is Important Too!

We Mean "GOOD BRAKES" On Your Car

Your car may W-h-r-r away when you step on the starter . . . the engine may run smoothly, and you may have a lot of zip . . . BUT . . . the next important question is, "How quickly can you STOP it?"

Get a Brake-Service job at ARDREY'S and you won't have to worry about that. That's one of the things that we are exceptionally good at. We have well trained Brakemen who know their business, and they have the very best equipment to work with.

Next time you have any trouble with the Brakes, just drive in to ARDREY'S, and we'll show you that we're not "talking through our hats."

We are now embarked on a glorious adventure in victory-through-politburo which is a little change from the usual American course of victory-through-arms.

There has been no change in our policy, just one slight amendment . . . the phrase which read "We will meet Communist aggression wherever it shows" now reads "but it must be between the base lines in Korea."

But hopes of a negotiated peace run high . . . as any student of modern history knows we've always done well at the conference table such as Yalta, Tehran, Potsdam, Berlin, Paris, Lake Success and so on.

Veterans and Draftees Guide —

—By—

Major Thomas M. Nial

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS will not be able to take the student deferment test this year. It's open only to draft registrants under 26 who have begun and plan to continue in college or a university. That means you can't just be entered and accepted by a college. You must be studying in it.

Congress might knock out the whole student deferment plan in the new draft bill by saying local boards are to consider students for deferment just like farm and factory workers, regardless of any test or class standing.

If Congress does not, then the new regulation stands. It says boards may consider only those who make a certain score or have a certain class standing. It does not say boards "shall" consider deferring them.

Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors may be considered for deferment for another year if they score 70 on the test. Seniors planning graduate work may be deferred if they score 75.

EVEN IF THEY don't make these scores, Freshmen in the upper half, Sophs in the upper two-thirds and Juniors in the upper three-fourths of their classes may be deferred for another year. So may Seniors planning graduate work if they're in the upper half of their classes.

Selective Service spells out the following reasons for giving this first student deferment test only to college men, not high school seniors:

1. The average age of this year's high school male graduating class is 17½. Only 30 percent, or 167,700, will be 19 or over.

2. About 45 percent of all this year's male high school grads will go on to college, but only about 20 percent will finally get through college.

3. Only five percent of the male high school grads 19 or over will go on to college.

4. Very few draft boards will have yet dug into their 19-year-old age groups by next summer.

5 Those who turn 19 at graduation or soon thereafter cannot be drafted for three months anyway. It takes that long to get them classified, examined and ordered up, and—

6. Those who get into college meanwhile are assured of not being drafted until the end of the academic year, by which time they will have a crack at the student deferment test.

THAT'S THE WAY Selective Service explains it to me, but I'll bet my gold major's leaves that one or more bright high school grads, 19 or over, get left out in the cold this summer and snapped up by their local boards. Not many understand. Just a few.

If you're an older high school senior planning on college, and your board tells you you're pretty sure to get an induction call soon after graduation, the only thing I can suggest is to enroll in one of the few colleges which have accelerated programs and will start their full freshman year in the summer.

But remember two things . . .

First, don't get draft jitters. Check with your local board. It can tell you better than Tom Nial or anyone else when you're likely to be called up. Boards call draftees according to age, the oldest getting the nod first. Even within age groups, the oldest go first. Those who are 22 years and 10 months old are called before those who are 22 years and nine months.

Second, if you decide to get into a summer course, make sure your college is starting a full academic year in the summer, not just a short extra summer term with the academic year scheduled to start in September. You won't get a postponement of induction for a short summer term.

* * *

(You may write Major Nial in care of this newspaper about your own service-connected question. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope.)

Camp Program Planned by Y

Plans for Summer Will Be Outlined

The boys' work department of the Marion Y.M.C.A. will sponsor a "campers' reunion" Friday night at 7:30, Marvin Ludwig, boys' work secretary, announced today.

Purpose of the meeting will be to acquaint Y members with plans for the camping season this summer. Boys who have attended sessions at Camp Nelson Dodd will be invited to attend and describe their activities at the sessions. Films also will be shown depicting life at the Y.M.C.A. Camp.

Mr. Ludwig said the local Y.M.C.A. would send their representatives to the Dodd camp again this season. Camp Nelson Dodd is located on the Mohician River, 20 miles northeast of Mt. Vernon and two miles upstream from Brinkhaven. It is used by Y.M.C.A.'s from the Ohio-West Virginia area which do not operate their own camps.

Three seven-day periods and two 12-day periods have been set up for this summer. The first camp session will be held June 17-24, the second June 24-July 6, the third July 8-15, the fourth July 15-27 and the fifth July 29-Aug. 5. All boys will be required to pay a $5 registration fee when registering for the camp. Rates for the seven-day sessions will be $18.50 for Y members and $21.50 for non-members and for the 12-day periods $31 for members and $34 for non-members.

Boys or parents interested in obtaining information on the camp program are asked to contact the local Y.M.C.A.

Symbol of a Homey Past

Mrs. Coolidge's Bread

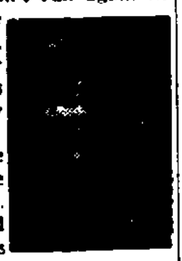
By FRANK TRIPP

SPEAKING OF Eleanor, Margaret and Bess, someone said "What's become of Grace Coolidge?", and we all were reminded of the charming New England first lady who graced the White House from August 1923 till 1928 when her laconic Cal proclaimed "I do not choose to run" and stuck to it.

It was the last time we were to hear anybody say he didn't choose to run. After 23 years there was such certainty that we'd likely never hear it again that the states took a hand and now an eight-year President has no choice. He can't run again no matter what he chooses, that is, none can after Hilarious Harry's hectic hierarchy has hied hence.



TRIPP

Harry will be the last to make his own choice. A constitutional amendment has written George Washington's no third term philosophy into the law of the land; after two Roosevelts had spent 20 of the last 50 years as chief executive.

It happened that one in our party could shed some intimate light on Mrs. Coolidge's activities. The gracious lady has passed her three score and ten and has spent 18 years of widowhood in the Northampton, Mass., home where she and the 30th President retired when Herbert Hoover took over.

YOU WILL RECALL that grief marred the Coolidges' stay at the White House. They lost their son Calvin while there. He was a promising lad of 16. Their other son, John, married Florence Trumbull, daughter of Governor John H. Trumbull of Connecticut.

Mrs. Coolidge, who is an alumna of the University of Vermont, was teaching in Clarke School for the Deaf when the Northampton city solicitor, who was to become Governor of Massachusetts and President of the United States, courted and married her in 1905. Her father was a steamboat inspector.

The sudden death of Harding made Coolidge President in a farmhouse ceremony that was characteristic of his administration to its end. His father, a justice of the peace at Plymouth, Vt., administered the presidential oath under kerosene lamplight in the humble family home—and sent Cal away to reduce the World War I debt by two billion dollars. We each owed $146 09 on the public debt when Cal didn't choose to run a second time. We each owe $1,696.11 now

THERE WAS NO similarity whatsoever between the men inhabitants of the White House pre-1932 and since. There is little similarity between their women folks and mighty little between the lives the American people lived then and now.

Yet with all this change in the world, Grace Goodhue Coolidge lives serenely, smilingly and helpfully on, reflecting joy and confidence into the lives of all who touch her small sphere of activities. She was homemaker in the White House; she is homemaker still. She moved into two rooms during World War II, that her house might be used by the Waves.

"I SMELLED THAT appetizing odor of baking bread as I walked into the Hartford home of John and Florence Coolidge," said a friend of the late President's son.

"I remarked about it, for it had been years since I had been in contact with a loaf of home-made bread.

" 'Mother Coolidge is here,' said Florence, 'and she always bakes us bread when she comes.' Then Mrs. Coolidge stepped in from the kitchen. She beamed motherly pleasure that I knew and liked the smell of baking bread.

" 'It is just out of the oven,' she said. 'Perhaps you'd like to taste it while still hot. I'll fetch an end crust—the heel, Calvin called it. He liked that best.'

"And I ate a slice of Mother Coolidge's home-made bread — and thought!

"Yes, I thought of it as a symbol of America's reverent, peaceful, home-made past"

Two Injured In Crash

Two Bucyrus youths were seriously injured when their automobile overturned on Route 30-S about one-half mile east of Meeker, at 9:40 p.m. yesterday.

State highway patrolmen said that Eugene Von Kaenel, 18, of Bucyrus, was driving the car which overturned when he apparently failed to negotiate a curve.

Richard Keller, 17, also of Bucyrus, was a passenger. He sustained a fractured clavicle and a lacerated thumb, patrolmen said.

Von Kaenel sustained a lacerated chin and a fractured left femur, patrolmen reported.

Passing motorists took the youths to Marion City Hospital, where their condition this morning was reported as being "good."

Patrolmen reported the car was demolished.

Hamburger Has New Taste When Barbecued

MENTION the word barbecue and at once gay visions of outdoor feasts and spicy meat mixtures come to mind. But you needn't wait for summer to enjoy them. Dressed up in their party best with thick onion rings, rich tomato sauce and stuffed olives, these large-sized hamburgers can delight guests tonight.

A well - seasoned mixture of ground beef, rolled oats and tomato juice is the first step toward these flavorful barbecues. After pan-frying the hamburgers, saute the onions, combine sauce ingredients, and simmer hamburgers and sauce together for a blending of flavors. A basket of warm buns, a hearty green salad —and your party is on its way to being a success.

PARTY BARBECUES

1½ lbs. ground beef
¾ cup rolled oats, uncooked
1 cup tomato juice
¼ cup chopped onion
2 t salt
¼ t pepper
2 large onions
½ cup sliced stuffed green olives
1¼ cups tomato juice (for sauce)
1 8-oz. can tomato sauce

Combine beef, rolled oats, tomato juice, onion, salt and pepper thoroughly. Shape into 6 large hamburgers. Pan-fry and then remove from pan. Cut the onions into thick slices. Saute until transparent in frying pan in which hamburgers were cooked. Add olives, tomato juice, tomato sauce and hamburgers to onions in pan. Simmer for 10 minutes. Arrange hamburger on large platter; top with onion slices. Pour sauce around hamburgers.

The Kremlin Could Help

IF CONGRESS is going to try to decide by a show of hands whether it would be better to have a showdown with the Communist conspiracy in Asia or in Europe, the Kremlin could help.

As long as Kremlin strategists have the initiative, they are the only ones who possibly can know where they plan a showdown—or if there is going to be a showdown at all.

Even before the Truman-MacArthur affair came to a climax, it was plain the American people were in danger of going off the deep end over the personalities and politics involved, at the expense of the real issue.

Now that the climax is here, it is even plainer that the real issue is likely to be forgotten in the shoving and gouging which have been encouraged by the incident. It will be a miracle if statesmen can rise above the politicians.

Gen. MacArthur, himself, is the person who can help the statesmen. He can do this by making it clear that he has no comfort to give to any of those among his countrymen who are grinding political axes on the wheel on national destiny.

He has come home with a recommendation for a positive policy for dealing with the Communist conspiracy. It is being made to appear that he would exclude Europe for the sake of resisting the conspiracy in Asia, but that hardly does credit to the military perspicacity of a MacArthur.

What the United States needs and deserves now is a sober, intelligent attempt to formulate a workable policy—not a political circus. Until this country knows what it wants to do and how it will do it, the only answer to the question of whether Europe or Asia comes first is in the Kremlin.

The problem is how to win back the initiative—to make the Kremlin wonder whether it will be Europe, Asia, or both.

Taxpayers' Hero

M. E. THOMPSON, a former governor of Georgia, now is a former bureaucrat of Washington. He went home because no one had given him anything to do 12 weeks after he was appointed co-director for territories for the office of price stabilization. In so doing he gave up a pay rate of $53.48 a day. This makes him the taxpayers' hero for 1951.

Fortunately, Mr. Thompson did not steal away quietly in the night. He made a statement. He said he refused to be a parasite on the American taxpayers. He said he was not the only jobholder in Washington with nothing to do. His only distinction is that he is the only one who refused to keep his mouth shut and spend the money.

The former governor of Georgia needs a job, or he would not have been in line for appointment to Michael DiSalle's price-stabilization agency, which has turned into a kind of agency for taking care of unemployed Democrats. He has given up $53.48 a day over a matter of principle. He should be able to make that much and more in the sideshow with Ringlings this summer—the only federal jobholder on record who separated himself from the payroll by his own initiative.

Safety Valve

AS SOON as the outfielders get the snow brushed out of their eyes, another baseball season will be firmly established. The country needs the stability in 1951 that is the vital byproduct of big league ball.

It is the safety valve for the pent-up urge to be on the winning side of something. The crazy American custom of picking out a ball team to root for and behaving thereafter as if the fate of the world depended on that team alone is crazy like a fox.

If the best psychiatrists put their high foreheads together to agree on a plan for keeping human beings sane it would be something like professional baseball. That is another way of saying what long has been plain to ball fans—that if the national pastime did not exist it would have to be invented or nothing in the United States would have any official standing any more.

Jefferson on War

THOMAS JEFFERSON, who saw many things clearly that the beneficiaries of his foresight still see only dimly, felt obliged on one occasion after his retirement to justify an unpopular war—the War of 1812. He wrote:

"All men know that war is a losing game to both parties. But they know also that if they do not resist encroachment at some point, all will be taken from them, and that more would then be lost even in dollars and cents, by submission than resistance. It is the case of giving a part to save the whole, a limb to save life. It is the melancholy law of human societies to be compelled sometimes to choose a great evil in order to ward off a greater; to deter their neighbors from rapine by making it cost them more than honest gains."

Many might apply Jefferson's reasoning on war to another unpopular war in their own time.

A Country Divided

By David Lawrence

Blame Truman for Splitting U. S. at Critical Time

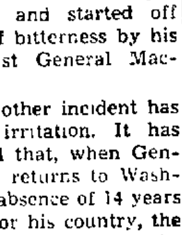
WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has split America. He has stirred up such dissension and division among the American people that the disunity which prevails today transcends in importance even the issues which led to his dismissal of General MacArthur.



LAWRENCE

From all over the country the evidence is piling up that Mr. Truman has stirred up bitterness such as has not been noted since the days before the Civil War. The emotional reaction to the dismissal of General MacArthur has not been lessened by the strangely partisan behavior that has developed in Congress itself.

Thus, the Democrats at first resented the idea of a joint meeting to hear General MacArthur. Only upon further reflection did they decide to go along with plans to welcome the General.

Then came the sniping and the innuendoes. Mr. Truman, who told the Democrats gathered at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner last Saturday night to put the national interest above personal interest, promptly disregarded his own political impulses and started off another wave of bitterness by his innuendo against General MacArthur.

Since then another incident has brought more irritation. It has been announced that, when General MacArthur returns to Washington after an absence of 14 years spent fighting for his country, the only man who is to be sent to the airport by the White House to greet him is General Vaughan.

NO MORE STUDIED way of belittling the visit of General MacArthur could have been dreamed up at the White House. If this is a sample of the political judgment of the President or of his advisers, it indicates that the poor strategy which led to the peremptory firing of MacArthur has not been followed by any better understanding of the public temper.

There were half a dozen ways by which the President could have relieved General MacArthur of his command. There were many ways by which the split in this country could have been avoided. But what is much worse is that the Democratic party in Congress has lined up solidly against General MacArthur and in defense of President Truman's arbitrary action. Conversely, the Republicans, seeing the whole thing taking on a political flavor, have themselves lined up in self-defense and in defense of General MacArthur.

Thus has the most important issue before the country—how to prevent a big-scale war—been turned over to political handling. This cannot bring a bipartisan approach to world policy. It cannot bring a united spirit behind any program of the administration. It is about the worst tragedy that could have befallen America.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN must accept full responsibility for the blunder. He did not tell the party leaders in advance what he intended to do or how he intended to do it. He asked opinions from a few of the leaders, to be sure, and indicated that he had to do something. But it was one-man government that finally functioned. One man in the White House, in a sudden decision late last Tuesday, decided to dismiss a general who had served his country well and to announce that decision to the press. One-man government treated with contempt not only the valiant service of a great general but also the principle of affording a hearing to an important official engaged in an important assignment 8,000 miles away from home—a mission of civil as well as military management of an occupied country.

Mr. Truman could have sent for General MacArthur and could have threshed out the differences. If they could not have been resolved, Mr. Truman could have given MacArthur the choice of retiring or of being relieved forthwith.

A FALSE ISSUE is now being trumped up. It is an argument being advanced by the President that MacArthur wants to bring on a large-scale war and that Mr. Truman wants peace. Nothing could be more illustrative of the narrowness of vision that prevails in Washington today. For General MacArthur is sincerely convinced that the proposals he has championed mean peace. Many observers—not in the military establishment—believe an appeasement policy by the President and the Department of State will bring on a third world war with all its horrible consequences.

General MacArthur has been reported as opposing peace-at-any-price. Actually he has not been doing any more than asking for a vigorous prosecution of a war in which 60,000 casualities already have been suffered by the United States—more casualties in nine months than in the first full year of World War II for this country.

The effort to misrepresent MacArthur's position has begun. All the engines of publicity of the Administration have been started. The President's gibe at MacArthur at the political dinner Saturday night was the beginning. Already the Democrats are getting ready to turn on the smears. These are sad days for America.

Pursuit of Happiness

By TRUMAN TWILL

THIS LINE of thought was started by a cartoon poking sympathetic fun at a middle-aged fat man trying to catch a fish in the rain. What won't people do in the name of recreation! That was the general idea.

You can take it from there and go as far as you want to go. The pursuit of happiness is a goofy business. A fellow makes himself comfortable on the best davenport ever built and remembers how comfortable he used to be sprawled on the grass under a tree when he was a kid—wishes he could be that comfortable again.

Or he lays out what used to be a week's pay for a fancy meal and wishes he could enjoy it as much as he used to enjoy a slab of bread fresh from the oven lathered with butter and roofed over with a sprinkling of brown sugar.

He surrounds himself with all the advantages of modern living and curses until the air is blue when someone interrupts him with another telephone call he did not want to receive.

He puts his faith in an internal combustion engine to save work for himself and remembers when it won't start that a horse kept on plodding until it dropped over dead and required no specialized knowledge to keep it going.

He takes full advantage of the marvels of communication which keep him posted about hundreds of worries he never used to have and finally is told by his doctor that he is on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

He stuffs his mind with all possible points of view on any given subject so he will be an alert bushy-tailed citizen and finds himself getting so confused because nobody agrees with him that he doubts whether he knows his own mind.

He owns the finest bed money can buy, in a bedroom especially designed to make him sleepy, with electrical gadgets to help keep him warm and comfortable, and would give a million dollars to sleep the way he used to sleep on a lumpy straw tick in a clammy unheated room under the eaves.

He arranges his existence so he never needs to waste any energy and is ordered firmly by the expert who is in charge of keeping him alive that if he wants to stay that way much longer he had better rearrange his existence so he will waste more energy.

He beats out his brains to make good and learns that the rate of his success is visible chiefly in the surtaxes payable on his income.

He watches a pup chase its tail until its tongue is hanging out and pats the stupid little scroot on the head. "You'll never catch it, old boy," he grins. "And if you ever do—ouch!"

Japan's Future a Vital Issue

By George E. Sokolsky

NO PHASE of the MacArthur controversy is more important than the future of Japan. Conquered by the United States, in a phase of World War II in which no other country played an important role, Japan could have been devastated. Instead, Douglas MacArthur brought to Japan ample evidence that the United States can end a fight with a handshake and even help the enemy to a reconstructed life.

SOKOLSKY

Thus, MacArthur as our proconsul created a new Japan. Whatever its role is to be, its foundation is the friendship and support of the United States. The Japanese can not defend themselves. They have not the economic means to sustain themselves. Left alone, they must fall a prey to Soviet Russia.

Their dependence upon the United States has been symbolized by the personality of General Douglas MacArthur. Despite the almost universal cliche that human nature is the same everywhere, it is more correct to say that different human beings do not respond in the same manner to identical challenges. The Japanese have been conditioned by their history to accept the leadership of one individual, whether he be Mikado or Shogun. In a word, they approach the man-god concept of leadership.

MacArthur's personality and his moralistic conduct in Japan fitted this Japanese concept. Therefore, his success in Japan depended as much upon his personality as upon his authority. He became the father of the Japanese people and they expected from him not only guidance but protection.

MACARTHUR'S ATTITUDE toward Russia coincided with the Japanese attitude. For the Japanese have for nearly 100 years feared and hated the Russians. Before Japan was opened to the world by Commodore Perry (in 1853), Russia made several attempts to settle on Japan but failed. After Perry, extraterritoriality and a conventional tariff were established over Japan and foreign troops were stationed in that country, the Russians establishing a garrison in Nagasaki, the evils of which were remembered even in my time in that country.

After the Meiji revolution (1868), the Japanese sent delegations to America and to several European countries to learn the processes of modernization, but they did not send a delegation to Russia.

In 1882, Korea was opened to western trade, with China, Japan and Russia vying for control of that country. This struggle eventuated in the Sino-Japanese war (1894-95) in which Japan was victorious, the Japanese by the treaty of Shimonoseki gaining the Pescadores, Formosa, and the Liaotung Peninsula (Dairen and Port Arthur) in Manchuria.

* * *

HOWEVER, RUSSIA, France, and Germany forced Japan to forego her Manchurian gains and to accept a money indemnity instead (1896). The same year, Russia and China signed the Li-Lobanoy treaty by which Russia gained the right to build the Chinese eastern railroad, thus controlling the very area that

Congress Quiz

Q—Must Congress approve the President's plan to reorganize the RFC before it can go into effect?

A—No. The plan will become effective April 20 if neither house disapproves it by a major vote of the authorized membership. That means 218 votes to disapprove in the House or 49 to disapprove in the Senate. The House actually voted against the plan (200 to 197) but failed by 18 votes to kill it. The Senate has not yet acted, but a committee April 6 recommended disapproval.

"Smart Boy" Plan Faulty

By Raymond Moley

ONCE more, President Truman's reverential attitude toward any Army man who wears stars has been disastrous. His approval of the plan of the Army to defer college boys who rank high in an aptitude test will cost him still more points in the scale of public confidence, in which his rating already is deplorably low.

MOLEY

For the purpose of measuring the wisdom that prompted him to accept this Army plan, let us consider what might have been the attitude of some former Presidents if they had been faced with the same choice.

Woodrow Wilson was, to be sure, a college administrator himself, and as a student he would have ranked high in any aptitude test. But he undoubtedly knew, as any professor or college administrator knows, how impossible it is to measure the future worth of a student by a test given early in his college course.

THE GLIB, PRECOCIOUS, and those with the advantage of a prep school which aims toward the standards of a specific college do best in such a test. Later, those who do not do so well very often forge ahead. I have been told by college administrators that boys educated in celebrated prep schools do best early in their college years, but that boys from public high schools start low and finish high.

Then let us consider what Herbert Hoover might have done. Hoover worked hard to get into college and earned his way through. But a sense of stern duty would have repelled him from the escape from military service on the basis of his grades. The very fact that he came up the hard way would have kept him from adopting any policy so reeking in special privilege as this is.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT would have seen the dangerous political consequences of such a plan. He would shrewdly have seen the bitterness that would be engendered among those inducted against the "smart" boys still in college. He would have seen the danger of stirring deep prejudice of other sorts and he would never have taken the Army point of view. Rather, he would have called in university heads and would have put the decision up to them.

Moreover, Roosevelt, with a keen sense of public relations, would have known that newspapermen, congressmen and others would have singled out some of the questions of such a test for wide publicity and ridicule. Think of deferring a man because he knew the author of "The Happy Warrior" or could place Suleiman the Magnificent in history or could explain relativity!

* * *

THE FINGER-POINTING that would follow such deferment would force the sensitive and spirited boys to reject such deferment and enlist. There would remain those dull in spirit but bright in brains and the number of such is legion.

Colleges would fall in public esteem. They would be known as havens of privilege rather than harbors of opportunity.

If the Army needs young men of superior intelligence and it wishes such men to be trained further, let us take them and send them back to college in uniform.

This will mean we can no longer see the player in the Yale-Princeton game grab the ball, romp through the Oklahoma-Illinois line, drop the ball on the Fordham ten-yard line and get set back five yards at Villanova.

The reason for General MacArthur's dismissal is clear: he took a full swing when Harry ordered him to bunt.

The Korean war may not be a police action but Mr. Truman certainly treated Douglas like a desk sergeant taking a cop off a beat.

Valentino 1951

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

A YOUNG clergyman's son is perturbed at the task of enacting the life story of the screen's greatest lover—Rudolph Valentino.

"I feel embarrassed," admitted Anthony Dexter.

He feels a little worried, too, wondering how middle - aged housewives and their teen-age daughters will react to his portrayal of the all-time film sheik.

The film, "Valentino," produced by Edward Small for Columbia Pictures, has been a 13-year project. The studio says Dexter, a 31 - year - old stage actor, got the role over 75,000 candidates.

HAL BOYLE

Dexter, the son, grandson, great - grandson and nephew of clergymen, was born in Nebraska and christened Walter Reinhold Alfred Frederick Fleischmann Figuring that was too much for the average theater marquee, he changed his name to Walter Craig. His producer changed it again to Anthony Dexter after signing him for the Valentino part in 1947.

IN THE YEARS since then Dexter spent his time studying Valentino, learning tango dancing, bull whip cracking, fencing "watching polo and football games and waiting for the writers to finish a script"

This also gave him plenty of time to grow an elegant pair of sideburns. The sideburns. long enough to cover his upper molars, still make him uneasy. People stare at them, just as they would if a 1927 flapper pranced by them.

"Playing the role of a great lover—you've got three strikes against you before you start," said Dexter, a bit morosely. "I am no more like Valentino than you are"

I though this was rather gracious of him, as I am more often compared to the late Lon Chaney Sr.

ACTUALLY DEXTER bears quite a resemblance to Valentino

"I'm about an inch taller than he was and weigh ten pounds more," he admitted. "But he had black hair and was darker; he had an olive complexion Also he was a good horseman. I used to do a little calf riding out of chutes back in the middlewest, but I wouldn't know what to do with an eastern saddle."

Valentino died of peritonitis in 1926. Dexter feels the legend has rather outgrown the man.

"He was a shy, quiet moody type — worried a lot," he said. "He was intelligent and had a good head on him The people who used to work with him say he was straightforward and cooperative. He didn't run around with women. He was a hell of a good mechanic and liked to putter around with motors."

* * *

BUT THE FANS never went to watch Valentino putter around with anything but hearts. To the women of the 1920s he was a symbol of the great romantic lover — the kind that the Mrs Babbitts yearned for at home but didn't have.

And that is the fact that makes Dexter uneasy.

"Everyone asks did I take lessons in how to make love," he said. "Of course, I didn't. I did see some revivals of the old Valentino movies. He had screen personality, and it is still there. The women were standing in line to see him again.

"But the peculiar quality any person possesses cannot be imitated completely. When he dies, the mold is broken That is as true of Valentino as it is of Babe Ruth"

And Dexter feels he took a "terrific gamble" professionally, because he doesn't want to be typed in one kind of role, particularly that of "a great lover."

"I feel that if I can please 50 percent of the people who liked Valentino, I'd be lucky," He said "I've already had a number of letters from women fans who admired Valentino They wished me a happier life than he had."

By Inez Robb

SAN FRANCISCO

UNLESS this country and all its cherished myths have gone to pot, any American boy can still grow up to be President, if he decides not to be Hoppy or an FBI man.

So if the Republicans are looking for a candidate named MacArthur to carry the presidential standard, they should take a good look at Arthur MacArthur, 13-year-old son of General Douglas A. MacArthur. The long view and 30 or 40 years may be required, but Republican luck has gotta change sometime, hasn't it?

Inez Robb

I am not privy to young Arthur's ambitions and I would not now be worrying about his political future and ultimate availability if an indignant Republican woman had not asked me if the mere accident of Arthur's birth might not deprive him of this birthright of every American nipper.

* * *

I WAS FLOUNDERING around mentally trying to find an answer when the Republican lady elucidated by saying that Arthur was born in the Philippines.

"And the Constitution plainly says that no one can be President unless he was born in the United States," this flower of the G.O.P. said, adding darkly, "although Roosevelt wasn't.

"He," my old Republican chum said, "was born on Campobello Island . . . Canadian!"

"Well," I said soothingly, "he made it and, given time, maybe Arthur will. Rome was not built in a day. And besides, I believe a candidate must be 35-years of age. Don't rush the jumps."

BUT THE POSSIBILITY that 33 years hence I may be covering the Republican national convention of 1984 from a wheel chair began to haunt me. If Thomas E. Dewey was a candidate at 45, why not Arthur, I asked myself.

So I sought out a San Francisco lawyer who has the Philadelphia brand skinned three ways, for legal advice on the situation. And he said flatly that if Arthur can swing the old Third Ward, sew up the farm vote and placate the silver bloc, there is not only no reason why he cannot be the Republican standard bearer in 1984, but succeed to the White House.

"Truman ought surely to be out of the way by then," he said succinctly.

THE MERE FACT THE BOY was born in the Philippines does not at all invalidate his unalienable right as an American boy to grow up to be President, in the opinion of my ambulance- chaser

Both of Arthur's parents are American citizens, and though he was born in the Philippines, it was then an American portectorate and not a sovereign nation, as it is now. There was considerable other legal talk including amicus curiae and habeas corpus, but boiled down, it spelled out the plain fact that a MacArthur will be eligible in 1984.

Now that this knotting legal problem is settled, there is a second one that troubles me much more. I was born in great open spaces of the west where, if men were men, they played draw poker. I cannot truthfully say that I cut my teeth on poker chips, but that was only because papa put them out of my reach because he hated to see teeth marks on 'em.

THERE IS NOW A BILL before the California Assembly, in session at Sacramento, to outlaw draw poker. And Gov. Earl Warren has given the bill his sanction.

Stud, spit in the ocean, seven card monte, deuces wild and Heaven-help-us, it's ladies'-night have long since been outlawed as poker variations in California. Now, in this, the home of Poker Flats, the Assembly is on the verge of out-lawing it.

Thus will disappear into limbo one more of the ancient cultural influences of the Golden West. It will soon be one with the buffalo and gold.

I wonder how many western young'uns, like myself, learned to count with poker chips (when we were old enough to be trusted not to chew them) and to savvy simple and compound sums, long division and algebraic educations while trying to fill a royal flush or draw to a full house?

Miss Tallulah Bankhead, the belle of the South, recently said her paw tole her she had enough book-larin' when she could shoot craps. In the old West, the test was draw poker.

The new West is getting too gol-dang refined.

HEARD ON THIS BEAT:

DRAGOONING forced labor squads out of Soviet China's biggest factories, including those in Shanghai which appear to have a quota of 200 slave laborers each, the Red military commanders are concentrating huge pools of involuntary workers in Northeast China, not far from the Korean border.

There, the victims are thrown into the construction of an enormous airfield scheduled for completion early next month. This is the word from underground sources with headquarters in Hong Kong, which also report, and document their charges, that the British have sold the new Red warlords, north of the Hong Kong border more than a million tons of tar for that airfield since last November.

Victor Riesel

Apparently my old labor friends, now running the Empire are permitting Britannia to waive the rules of decency in this war. And these are the English labor men who flocked here in the thirties seeking help for their starving unions. Now they pay us back with tar for the airfields of Sovietized China whose planes already are shooting down our B-29s The tar and the boys' blood are on the hands of Britain's labor brethren.

Just before the Senator went into the last official luncheon Gen. AT LEAST 40 Hollywood witnesses will be grilled by the House un-American activities committee right through to about May 7th. This will be the hearing to end all hearings on the movie colony. The glamor operation, the camouflage crowd which covered over the tracks and activities of Steve Nelson, the man the committee charges with atomic espionage for the Soviet Union, has been exposed. These hearings will be exhaustive. Every party call will be spotlighted.

And then the committee must, and should investigate the TV and radio fields, thereby once and for all driving the Communists out of the entertainment field they've exploited for 20 years. And if the committee wants evidence that the New York Broadway belt is loaded with the party people, they should get a full report of a pro-Commie demonstration held last Thursday evening which attracted 2,000 people, many of them Broadwayites.

These 2,000 came to the Hotel Riverside Plaza despite a pelting downpour which drove most of the city indoors and emptied restaurants and theatres. The rally, run by the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, was announced as a meeting to greet those quizzed by the House committee Among those who spoke was Paul Robeson, a man who thinks so little of his country that he sends recorded messages to Soviet "peace" rallies in Warsaw and elsewhere behind the Iron Curtain, denouncing us.

Also, Dalton Trumbo and the Hollywood whip, John Howard Lawson, who knows far more than most people think about many other activities besides Hollywood infiltration Don't you, Jack?

And, brother, how they howled against Gen. MacArthur while they distributed Communist May Day literature labelled "March For Peace On May Day," published by the United Labor and Peoples Committee For May Day, 123 W. 24 St.

Those Broadwayites need some looking into—and no civil liberties will be violated. For they are conspiring to keep jobs and parts from anti-Communists . . . How about it, Chairman Wood?

NEWEST HUSH-HUSH project in Washington is devoted to strategy to crush the black market in steel, copper, aluminum and other scarce materials. National Production Authority experts, including their bright labor advisers, are developing a plan under which anyone who must have vital material for defense work will get a specific amount from a specific producer, thereby saving him the anguish of going out on the open market and being bled by racketeers . . .

MEANWHILE, in labor's national headquarters, union strategists are contemplating a series of rallies in St. Louis, Buffalo, Chicago, Philadelphia and other big cities to stir up an outcry against high prices and rents. Point is to give Mr Truman the chance personally to fix new wage and price policies to run until June 30.

The President has revealed, at his closed sessions recently, that he's willing to do this by directive if labor and management can't agree on the authority of the new wage board. Business doesn't want him to, for it believes he's too friendly with the labor people—and therefore they asked for the chance to work things out directly with the A F. L and C I. O. chiefs this past Thursday in Washington.

They were close to agreeing on what American working men should get for the duration, when they broke up for lunch. After they ate, the businessmen found "it impossible to sign the agreement." And they're deadlocked. But the labor leaders will crack the 10 percent wage increase ceiling . . .

WATCH FOR the Commies to launch a new Peace Pilgrimage, this time to Chicago on June 29, where they hope to get thousands to demand that we appease the Chinese Reds. Point of moving to Chicago is to get away from the "internationally minded" East coast . . .

And, at the same time, the Soviet's world propaganda machine will launch a new global signature drive in Romania—for a "peace pact between the five great powers" All not in favor, will be "smeared" as "millionaires." They seek one billion signatures . . . . .

Dollars and Sense In Funeral Costs . . .

The cost of a funeral sometimes becomes a matter of concern to a family. This is especially true in times like these when incomes are hard pressed to meet the needs of the living.

No family should let sentiment run away with their judgment in a situation of that kind. We have an unusually wide range of prices and a little common sense used in selection can meet any such problem.

We speak of this because we have no desire that any Marion family ever should spend money on a funeral when those funds ought to be used to care for the living.
